Dr. Crippen on Trial for the Murder of His Wife

London, Oct. 18.—Dr. Hawley Crip-en was today put on trial for his life, charged with the murder of Coraelle Crippen, the American actress known in the profession as Belle Elmore.

The jury, a typical body of middle-class tradesmen and clerks, was se-cured with but little trouble, objection having been made in but three instances. Crippen pleaded not guilty.

The trial, which is being held in the New Bailey, promises to be one of the most historic in the annals of that famous court. No less a person-age than Lord Chief Justice Alverstone is presiding. He was accom-panied into court today by Sir John Knill, lord mayor of London, Sir Thomas Vezey Strong, lord mayor elect, and the sheriffs in their robe

Richard D. Muir, K. C., conducts the prosecution with the assistance of Solicitor Travers Humphreys, who represented the Crown at the preliminary hearing. Crippen is represented by Alfred A. Tobin, K. C., Unionist member of parliament, and Huntley E. Jenkins

Ethel Clare Leneve, the doctor's Ethel Clare Leneve, the doctors typist who has been indicted as an accessory after the fact, was not in court today. Her trial will follow in the event of Crippen's conviction. The American witness, Bruce Miller of Chicago, and his wife were in

The indictment was read and Crippen replied to the usual questions and pleaded, "Not guilty." A hush fell as Counsel Muir rose and made the opening statement for the crown. He related the familiar story of the tragedy so far as it has been learned by the prosecution and the public

The taking of testimony was then The most interesting of this introduced, before the lunch interval was given by Mrs. Paul Martinetti, who repeated the evidence she had given in the police court. The wit-ness with her husband dined with the Crippens at the home of the lat-ter on the evening of January 31 and played cards until 1:30 o'clock in the morning. The Crippens seemed perfectly happy. This occasion was the last on which Mrs. Crippen was anyone, so far as the police have learned.
